100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the surname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, a smooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bear-skin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va.

THE subscriber has now for sale a number of the most valuable tracts, in both of those rich and improving bodies of lands, and can supply applicants with any number they may wish, and in any part of either territory. Every person who visits the Western Country, particularly those who intend settling there, should take with them a few quarter sections of those lands; every man who has a young and growing family, and can spare a few hundred dollars, should not miss the present opportunity of getting some of those lands; as it will insure to his children a greater certainty than any other investment he can possibly make for their benefit.—From the immense emigration to both Illinois and Missouri, particularly to the military lands, it is certain there must be a great rise in the price very soon, and those who miss the present opportunity, will never again have a chance to do so well. The patents will be sold very low, for cash, good notes or bonds at short dates, or bank stock in the Central Bank of Georgetown and Washington, and the Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown. UNITED STATES BANK.

An impression exists in the minds of some individuals, that the Bank of the United States is indebted in Europe to the amount of two or three million of dollars, and that it has lately found it necessary to negociate a postponement of the payment of the debt.

We state upon the best authority, that the bank owes no debt in Europe. The mistake on this subject probably originated partly in misapprehension of facts, and partly in a disposition to think and speak unfavorably, on all occasions, of every thing connected with the bank of the U. States. This institution has made an arrangement, by which the payment of that part of the Louisiana debt due from government to foreigners, in October, is postponed to a period more convenient and beneficial to the public. This arrangement will retain for a time in the country a large sum of money, the loss of which at this period of pecuniary embarrassment would render the pressure still more distressing. [Ibid.

UNITED STATES PENSIONERS.

Saturday last was the day for paying the public pensioners at the Bank of the United States. We understand that the number applying for the payment of their pensions here amounted to about eighteen hundred. Two hours before the usual hour for opening bank and the adjoining office, the applicants began to flock in; and in a short time, the court leading to the bank was almost literally blocked up, and continued in that situation until after two o'clock.—The scene was an interesting one; here and there, in the crowd, were to be seen the soldier who had lost an eye or a limb in the service of his country, and the widowed matron, whose husband had laid down his life in the "tented field," anxiously pressing forward to receive the reward of their sacrifices and bereavements. Occasionally we could hear a veteran telling of the fatiguing marches he had performed in the day of trial, the "hair-breadth 'scapes" he had made, and as it were "fighting his battles o'er again." The great number of pensioners, and the forms to be observed on the occasion, will consume several days in completing the payments, it being impracticable to satisfy more than about ninety on each day. [Ibid.

New-York, Septemeer 7.

George Brown, late mate of the schooner Retrieve was tried yesterday before Judge Livingston, for murder and piracy on the high seas. The trial lasted about four hours, and the prisoner was ably defended by his counsel; but his own confession, and the corresponding testimony of one of the accomplices, leaving no doubt of guilt on the minds of the court and jury, he was found guilty.

It will be recollected that the Retrieve was bound from Cadiz to New-Orleans; but after the mutiny, and murder of the captain, the mutineers carried her to Omoa, on the Spanish Main, where the prisoners were secured, and brought into this port on board the United States brig Enterprize, which vessel was sent out for the purpose. [Gazette.

Extract to the Editor of the Baltimore Patriot, dated

NEW-ORLEANS, 4th August 1819.

We have received a report in the city from Barrataria, that the renegado Mitchell, has collected together upwards of 150 desperadoes, and has fortified himself on an Island with several pieces of cannon, and that he has declared they would all perish within their intrenchments, before they will surrender to any force. There are now about 100 men out in search of the late pirates, four of whom have been taken, and are now in custody—but it will require good friends to get hung. A few days ago, one of them with a pistol in each hand, marched boldly through the city guard of eight men with fixed bayonets, and they boldly stood still and let him get off clear—all true disciples of Hudibras. It is thought here, it will require 500 men to destroy this nest of pirates. We want the strong arm of government extended to this section of the union. We are greatly neglected. I hope they will awake from their slumbers at Washington, and try to put a stop to such plunders at our very doors. It is high time to be moving towards the Gulf of Mexico.

We have had fine rains for the last week and the city is considered healthy. The thermometer has ranged for ten days past between 76 and 82—which is much cooler than I observe it has been in Boston; in fact, we have not had it above 90 this season. Although we are healthy in the city and suburbs, still their is a consderable sickness among the shipping along the Levee, and many deaths have occurred among them. This is in a great measure accounted for, by the peculiar manner in which the seamen accustom themselves to live.—It is to their intemperance generally that so much sickness takes place among them, and to their carelessness about exposing themselves to night dews, and sleeping on the decks, on or about streets, in a state of intoxication; to this dreadful vice so many fall victims, and not to the climate, which I firmly believe is as healthy as that of your city. Fever and ague, which was scarcely known to originate here, has been very prevalent this season, and some have died in the chills, but there has been no report of any death by the old fashioned yellow fever.

The prospect of our crops of Cotton and Sugar is very great. Should they be got in without damage by rot or frost, they will far exceed the last year's. There is but little produce in market, and that is held too high for export under our last advices. What ships are here, and I am sorry there are so many, will lie by for the next season. What freights have lately been given, will scarcely pay the ship's expenses. I think there are not over 2000 hhds. Tobacco, and 5000 bales of cotton left in warehouses; the former is held at 5 cents for very prime, and the latter 18 a 20 cents. Flour is 10 a 11 dollars, and I believe 500 barrels, best Baltimore would now bring 12 dls.—Such is the uncertainty of this fluctuating market.

Richmond. September 8.

ROBBERY OF THE MAIL.

On Monday morning, a treasury draft on the Branch Bank of the United States was presented for payment. The clerk recollected that the same draft had been previously paid, and cancelled, and saw that it bore the marks of the cross with which all checks are stamped after they had been paid. The circumstance of course excited some suspicion; and it was immediately ascertained that this, with two other treasury drafts, had been made up in one of the weekly returns of September by the cashier of this office, deposited in the post-office, and forwarded to the mother bank in Philadelphia. The returns of that week had not been received at the mother bank.

The presenter of the draft, who gave out his name to be John Crocker or (Dockard) was carried before the chief justice, to account for the way in which he had come by this draft—He stated that he had obtained it from a man, of the name of Webb, on Saturday last, in this city.

He was ordered into custody, not being able to obtain bail. On his way to the jail he pointed out to the officer, a man who was standing at the house, (formerly called the Bell Tavern) saying that that man was Webb. Webb was also taken into custody, & committed to jail. On searching his person, there was found in his hat a pocket book containing other suspicious papers.

His clothes, he said, were in the trunk of a young gentleman, then at the Bell, with whom he had travelled to Richmond from Fredericksburg. This gentleman, called J. A. Caldwell, readily gave up the packet on application—which contained two other pocket-books. From the three pocket books, were taken (among others) papers of the following description:

1. The two other treasury drafts, which had also been paid, cancelled, and forwarded in the same weekly return from this office to the bank in Philadelphia.

2. A draft for 1000 dollars, from the Newbern Bank, dated August 3d, drawn by the cashier of the bank of Pennsylvania, and endorsed and remitted on Archibald Baugh, cashier of the Farmers Branch Bank, at Petersburg.

3. The half of an U. States Savannah Branch Bank, transmitted by Philip Fister of this city, and made payable to the order of Benjamin Warner of Philadelphia.

4. A fifty dollar note of the Planters' and Mechanics' Bank of South Carolina, which had been cut in two by the remitter, and the two pieces of which had been pasted together, by a small piece of white paper, cut out of a larger piece found in the pocket book. The slip at the back of the bank note exactly fitted the part cut out.

5. A 10 dollar note of the Bank of the State of South-Carolina.

It appears that Webb is an assumed name—his real name being John B. Rice; that he is a slater—once resided perhaps in Lancaster, Pennsylvania—is said to have worked as a slater in this city, and is supposed to have last resided in Fredericksburg. He says, that he obtained these papers from a man, in or near Bladensburg—though the name of the man and the nature of the transaction, were not explicitly stated by him.

It seems to be pretty clearly ascertained, that the mail which was robbed, was made up at the Richmond post-office on the night of Monday, the 16th August. No clue is furnished as to the place or manner of the robbery. But it is suspected, that it took place between this city and Alexandria—perhaps in or near Fredericksburg. There is a letter from J. A. Caldwell, to Rice, dated at Alexandria, Aug. 28th, stating his intention to see Rice in Fredericksburg—that he had a pair of horses to sell, &c. Mr. Caldwell has a pair to sell, now in this city.

DECLARATION OF THE INDEPENDENCE OF TEXAS.

The Louisiana Herald contains a copy of a Declaration, issued on the 23d of June, by the Supreme Council of the Republic of Texas. The following extracts contain all that would be interesting to the American reader:—

"The citizens of Texas have long indulged the hope, that in the adjustment of the boundaries of the Spanish possessions in America and of the territories of the U. States, they should be included within the limits of the latter. The claims of the U. States, long and strenuously urged, encouraged this hope. An expectation so flattering prevented any effectual effort to throw off the yoke of Spanish authority, though it could not restrain some unavailing rebellions against an odious tyranny. The recent treaty between Spain and the United States of America has dissipated an illusion too long fondly cherished, and has roused the citizens of Texas from the torpor into which a fancied security had lulled them.—They have seen themselves by a convention to which they were no party, literally abandoned to the dominion of the crown of Spain, and left a prey, not only to impositions already intolerable, but to all those exactions which Spanish rapacity is fertile in devising. The citizens of Texas would have proved themselves unworthy of the age in which they lived—unworthy of their ancestry—of the kindred of the Republics of the American continent—could they have hesitated in this emergency, what course to pursue. Spurning the fetters of colonial vassalage—disdaining to submit to the most atrocious despotism that ever disgraced the annals of Europe—they have resolved under the blessing of God to be FREE. By this magnanimous resolution, to the maintainance of which, their lives and fortunes are pledged, they secure to themselves an elective and representative government, equal laws and the faithful administration of justice, the rights of conscience and religious liberty, the freedom of the press, the advantages of liberal education and unrestricted commercial intercourse with all the world.

"Animated by a just confidence in the goodness of their cause, and stimulated by the high object to be obtained by the contest, they have prepared themselves unshrinkingly to meet, and firmly to sustain, any conflict in which this declaration may involve them.

INDIAN CIVILIZATION.

The views of the President of the United States, under whose direction the annual 10,000 dollars, appropriated by the last Congress, for Indian civilization and improvement, are to be applied, may be gathered from the subjoined letter, which, we understand, has been issued in the form of a circular, by the War Department, to as many agents as are known to be engaged in promoting the work of Indian civilization "within the limits of those Indian nations which border on our settlements."

The information called for is certainly necessary, as a first step in the progress of a system which is to be adopted in order to give to the appropriation its contemplated effect.

Doubtless this appropriation will be more extensively promotive of the object intended by it, as an auxiliary fund, especially in such bands as those in which it is in contemplation to place it, than it could possibly be made were it constituted an independent one. The sum is too small upon which to organize a separate system; but, were it ten times its present amount, it is probable that, even then, it would be more practically and usefully applied by the men who have gone forth under the impulse of their own humanity, and in the strength of their own means, than it would be by mere undertakers.

CIRCULAR.

"In order to render the sum of 10,000 dollars, annually appropriated at the last session of Congress for the civilization of the Indians, as extensively beneficial as possible, the President is of opinion that it ought to be applied in co-operation with the exertions of benevolent associations, or individuals, who may choose to devote their time or means to effect the object contemplated by the act of Congress.

"But it will be indispensible, in order to apply any portion of the sum appropriated, in the manner proposed, that the plan of education, in addition to reading, writing, and arithmetic, should, in the instruction of the boys, extend to the practical knowledge of the mode of agriculture, and of such of the mechanic arts as are suited to the condition of the Indians; and in that of the girls to spinning, weaving, and sewing. It is also indispensible that the establishment should be fixed within the limits of those Indian nations which border on our settlements. Such associations, or individuals, who are already actually engaged in educating the Indians, and who may desire the co-operation of the government, will report to the Department of War, to be laid before the President, the location of the institutions under their superintendence, their funds, the number and kind of teachers, the number of youths of both sexes, the objects which are actually embraced in their plan of education, and the extent of the aid which they require; and such institutions as are formed, but have not gone into actual operation, will report the extent of their funds, the places at which they intend to make their establishments, the whole number of youths of both sexes which they intend to educate, the number and kind of teachers to be employed, the plan of education adopted, and the extent of the aid required. This information is necessary to enable the President to determine whether the appropriation of Congress ought to be applied in co-operation with the institutions which may request it, and to make a just distribution of the sum appropriated.

"In proportion to the means of the government, co-operation will be extended to such institutions as may be approved, as well in erecting the necessary buildings as in their current expences."

The city of Savannah has thus far been declared extremely healthy. The draining of marshes and rice lands in the vicinity of the city, and the substitution of a system of dry culture are supposed to have contributed much to this important object.

LEDYARD.

This celebrated traveller who was a citizen of Connecticut, was sent by captain Cook to explore a river on the coast of Kamschatka. He embarked in a canoe, with only three companions. These were the Bible, Ovid's Metamorphoses, and a bottle of brandy.

A respectable friend has enabled the Editor of the Baltimore American Daily Advertiser, to lay before his readers, the following Document:—

THE EPISTLE.

From the Yearly Meeting, held in London, by Adjournments from the 19th of the Fifth Month, to the 28th of the same, inclusive, 1819.

To the Quarterly and Monthly Meetings of Friends, in Great Britain, Ireland and elsewhere.

DEAR FRIENDS,

We have renewed cause of thankfulness to "the Father of mercies and God of all comfort." [2 Cor. I. 3.] for having permitted us to be again sensible that we are under his protecting care. His love and his ancient goodness have not been withheld from us in this our annual assembly; and under a fresh persuasion that He is still graciously willing to do us good, we invite all our dear friends to offer their hearts to his disposal. In the wilderness of this life, dangers assail us on every hand: but if we look with entire reliance unto Christ, the great Head of the Church, he will lead us safely along; he will protect us from being entangled by the briars and thorns; he will shield us from the sun, and from the storm; he will permit us to know his voice and to distinguish it from the voice of the stranger; and humbly to believe that we are of that "one fold," [John X. 16.] of which he is the everlasting Shepherd,—that he will give unto us eternal life, and that none shall pluck us out of his hand, [vers 28.] How inviting are these truths! how animating are these assurances!

But this attainment is to be ours, only as we look in faith unto Him who declared,—"If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me." [Luke X. 23.] To deny ourselves, and to take up the cross, are duties which we desire earnestly to press upon all. If we seek for divine aid that this may become the daily engagement of our lives, we shall be induced to make a narrow scrutiny into our thoughts, and into the motives which influence our conduct. Frequent self examination will convince us that we are frail, and unworthy of the Lord's mercies. A conviction of our own weakness and transgressions will make us fearful of speaking of the errors of others; and tend to restrain us from tale-bearing and detraction. At the same time, divine love operating on our hearts, and begetting there the love of our neighbor, will constrain us to offer a word of counsel, in a way most calculated to produce the desired effect on such as we deem deficient in moral or religious duty.

Precious and very desirable is a humble, contrite, teachable state of mind, in which the earnest prayer is raised, that we may live in the love and fear of our great Creator, and in all things walk acceptably before Him. Oh! that all may be kept in the low valley of humility, where the dew remains long; where they will know the Lord to be "as a hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest."—[Isa. XXXII. 2.] Here preservation is witnessed within the holy inclosure: here we are guarded against the snares which beset those who would make haste to be rich. How safe, how necessary it is, for the humble Christian to set out well; to watch against the first temptation to covet great things! Sweet is the condition of the grateful mind; sweet is a state of contentment and of daily dependance on the Lord.

The amount of the sufferings of our friends in Great Britain and Ireland as reported to this meeting, is upwards of fifteen thousand six hundred pounds. A very small proportion of these has been incurred for military purposes, whilst the remainder has arisen from the support of our Christian testimony against the payment of tithes, and other demands of an ecclesiastical nature.

We have received an epistle from our dear friends in Ireland, and one from each of the yearly meetings in America. It is satisfactory to find that in several parts of that continent, friends are alive to the rights and interests of the natives of Africa and their descendants resident among them; and are endeavoring by the establishment of schools, to promote the education of their offspring. Their attempts also, to introduce the benefits of civilized life among the native inhabitants of the wilderness, continue to be steady and persevering; and to be marked in some parts by a cheering degree of success. We are also glad to learn the favorable result of an application to the government of the United States, to secure to some of these natives a title to their lands, previously to an intended subdivision of this property, in order to its being transmitted by legal inheritance.

The continuance of the blessings of peace to this nation has warmed our hearts with gratitude. Our refusal to bear arms is not only a testimony against the violence and cruelty of war, but against a confidence in what is emphatically termed in scripture, the "arm of flesh: (2 Chro. XXXII. 8.) it is a testimony to the meekness and gentleness of Christ, and a resignation to suffer, in reliance on the power, the goodness, the protection, and the providence of the Almighty. Let us, even now, seek to have their trust so firmly fixed on this unfailing source of help, that if our faith should be ever again put to the test, we may have ground to look with humble confidence to Him in whom we have believed.

Dear Friends, if we are quickened by the power of the Son of God, we shall not be idle spectators in the world, nor indolent occupiers of the talents with which we are intrusted; and, however varied our allotments may be, each will see that he has duties, and very important duties to fulfil, in this state of existence. We shall, however, find that it becomes the pious christian to wait to know his exertions for the good of others, regulated and sanctified by the spirit of his Lord. We shall seek to be preserved from suffering by the friendship and intercourse of the world; and we shall see the necessity of continued watchfulness, that neither our own minds, nor those of our tender offspring, may be drawn aside from the simplicity and truth as it is in Jesus. Our early predecessors received this truth by convincement; they made great sacrifices to obtain an establishment therein, and having thus purchased their possession, they were careful not lightly to esteem it, nor to exchange it for any inferior object: but let us ever bear in mind, that the salvation of the soul cannot be inherited by birth-right, nor imparted by education. It is an individual work, indispensably necessary for every man to know wrought in him through Jesus Christ our Lord and Saviour. Let us then, each seek to fill his allotted station in the church, that in the day of righteous decision, we may all be found worthy to stand before God in Zion.

"The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen."

Signed in and on behalf of the Meeting, by WM. DILWORTH CREWDSON,
Clerk to the Meeting this Year.

SUDDEN DEATH OF THE DUKE OF RICHMOND, GOVERNOR GENERAL OF THE BRITISH AMERICAN COLONIES.

Extract of a letter, dated Montreal, September 1.

"You will have heard of the death of his Grace the Duke of Richmond. The melancholy event took place in Upper Canada. His body was brought to town yesterday, and carried in procession to the steam-boat, amidst a concourse of people amounting to from 8 to 10,000. The shops had been shut all the afternoon, and every possible respect paid to his memory—Indeed there appeared universal grief. He has done much good, and will be always regretted."

From the Montreal Star—August 31.

P. S.—We stop the press to announce the unexpected and overwhelming intelligence that the body of his Grace the Duke of Richmond is now a breathless corpse at the government house in this city. We are informed that his Grace was well, when at Richmond, on Monday, the 23d inst. It appears that he had left Richmond, on his journey to Montreal, and was hurried to a better world at some intermediate, and, as we understand, obscure part of the country. The melancholy event took place on Saturday morning, at eight o'clock. His son, and the physicians, who left this city yesterday, went over land and missed the body of his Grace, which was conveyed by water.

JOHN HOPKINS

Hill and Dale, April 20.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (an Irish might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

PROSPECTUS

Of a new periodical work to be published in the city of Washington, entitled the

Washington Theological REPERTORY.

EDITORS. { Rev. Wm Hawley, Washington,
Rev. Wm. H. Wilmer, Alexandria,
Rev. Oliver Norris, Alexandria,
Rev. Reuel Keith, Georgetown.

Assisted by several other literary gentlemen of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

IF any apology were necessary for this undertaking, it may be found in the fact, that there is no publication on a similar plan, in all that section of our country lying south of New-York, and but one in the whole of the United States. It has been matter of equal surprize and regret, that the Episcopal Church should be so far behind other Christian denominations, in similar efforts to disseminate the principles of religion and piety. At a period like the present, when the Lord is preparing his way on earth, by the most remarkable efforts of human agency, and the most wonderful operations of his providence and grace—when we perceive in every part of Christendom, a praise-worthy emulation to share in the glorious work of filling the earth with the knowledge of the only true God, and his Son Jesus Christ; it would seem criminal for any to withhold their exertions, however feeble, in the great enterprize of human happiness and salvation. The editors have, therefore, felt it their duty to make this humble effort to supply this acknowledged deficiency on the part of the church in this section of the country, and to bear their share in the common exertions of Christians to promote the Redeemer's Kingdom. And having obtained the services of a gentleman, in whose talents and principles they have confidence, whose time will be wholly devoted to the superintendence of the work, they feel encouraged to solicit the patronage of the public.

The publication will be conducted under the immediate inspection and control of the above named editors, who will form a committee to review every article intended for publication. The principles upon which it will be conducted are those of the bible, as illustrated in the articles, Liturgy and Homilies of the Protestant Episcopal Church. As members of this church the editors will feel bound to support the Apostolical character of her institutions, the pious tendency of her rites and ceremonies, and the evangelical nature of her doctrines. But in these, and all other discussions, they hope never to loose sight of that great law of charity which teaches us to "preserve the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace."

Acting upon those catholic principles, so long and so successively pursued by "The Christian Observer," their chief object will be to inculcate sound theological knowledge, and to delineate and recommend pure and vital religion. They trust therefore, that while the members of every Christian denomination may find something edifying and instructive, none will discover any just cause for offence in the pages of this work. General subjects of biblical criticism, practical illustrations of scriptural truth, the biography of illustrious persons, evidences of the truth of revelation, essays on the history and polity of the church, reviews of interesting publications, religious, literary and philosophical intelligence—in short, whatever is connected with the promotion of religion, humanity and literature, will find a place in this repository.

The testimony of experience supersedes the necessity of dwelling on the advantages of a periodical publication on the plan proposed. Its obvious tendency will be to render the various departments of religious knowledge more easy and accessible, and give a more ready currency and wider circulation, to those great truths which involve the present welfare and future destiny of man.

It will tend powerfully to stimulate the exertions of the editors, and console them under the difficulties attendant on the prosecution of this work, amidst many other avocations, should it prove the means under the blessing of God, of enriching any of its readers with the saving knowledge of Christ, and prepare them for a participation in the felicity and glory of his heavenly kingdom. With this hope they commit it into his hands, and confidently solicit their brethren of the clergy and laity to assist them in carrying into effect the objects of the undertaking.

TERMS OF THE WORK.

A volume of the Repertory shall consist of twelve numbers, of which one shall be published on the first day of every month, containing thirty-two large octavo pages, stitched in blue, and attended with a table of contents.

The paper used in the work shall be good, and the typography executed with the greatest care.

The price of a volume is two dollars, payable in advance; to such as omit the advance, two dollars and fifty cents.

It is designed to enlarge the size of the work, without increasing the price, as soon as one thousand subscribers shall be obtained.

Communications and remittances may be directed to any of the editors, post paid.

Any person becoming responsible for five subscribers, shall receive a sixth copy gratis.

The first number may be expected in the month of July. June 26
